

Extraordinary Announcement of 4iG PLC
about the signature of a great value contract

4iG Public Limited Company (hereinafter: “4iG”, “4iG PLC”) hereby informs its Esteemed Investors and the Participants of the Capital and Financial Markets that in the tendering procedure named „Procurement of a central repository”, the Hungarian National Bank announced 4iG as the winning bidder and concluded a contract with it.

The aim of the project: the central company data storage, the HPE 3PAR 7200 is at the end of its planned lifetime. This necessitated the introduction of a new tool with a higher performance and service position than the existing one, with the extension of capacity. The central repository is the basic equipment of the RBI's IT infrastructure. The supplier must be able to perform data storage tasks in the next seven years, in addition to a high availability, to support server parks, data processing systems, virtualized tools and solutions.

The net amount of the framework agreement: HUF 1,924,835,800.
